

IWA DINNER AT HORIZON HILLS

Article: Rita Kiron

Experiencing the sunset was the reason we organized this event at 5.15 pm onwards. We were seated at the right place and we got to see only a glimpse of the sunset though. The heavy rain played the spoilt sport. Anyway, we enjoyed a full view of the golf course, its greenery with so much of open space. Horizon Hills was an apt name for this place.

Most of the guests started arriving around 5.30pm. After some introductions, hellos, handshakes and smiles, we all settled in and ordered drinks. Being a small group, we were getting to know each other better. We were getting comfortable. By the way, we had a birthday girl, Phyllis. All of us greeted her and she shyly accepted our best wishes. She was rather surprised. We had also brought a cake for her.

Since it was raining, it was cool and breezy. With the spot lights and less lightings, it was a nice ambience, ah yes, romantic too. We ordered our dinner at about 7pm. The food came just in time when we were getting hungry. Quite nice food, well presented. The staff was very helpful and efficient in organizing everything.

After dinner, the cake was brought in for Phyllis to blow the candle and make a wish. She cut the cake and we sang the birthday song. She was touched and happy, like we all were. After having the cake, we stayed for a little while more and then we all parted ways. Sweet way to end the evening.....

Till the next IWA Dinner.....
